ICC RECIPROCATION

City of Aspen/Pitkin County will accept International Code Council contractor certifications for comparable categories of licenses. The holder of an ICC General Building Contractor (A) certification is eligible for any class of Aspen/Pitkin County General Contractor license. The holder of an ICC Building Contractor License (B) is eligible for an Aspen/Pitkin County General Contractor Light Commercial license. The holder of an ICC Residential Building Contractor (C) is eligible for an Aspen/Pitkin County General Contractor Residential Homebuilder license. Aspen/Pitkin County will also accept an ICC Roofing Contractor certification for a Roofing Contractor license, and an ICC Master Mechanical certification for a Mechanical Contractor license.

OTHER RECIPROCATION

On a case-by-case basis, the Chief Building Official will reciprocate relevant certifications from other jurisdictions/organizations. An acceptable certification shows that an exam was passed covering Code knowledge relevant to your trade. This does NOT include contractor licenses from other jurisdictions. If you can provide evidence of a relevant test being passed and information about what the test covered, then you can submit a request for reciprocation to CDEHadmins@aspen.gov

SPECIALTY CERTIFICATIONS

Owner/Builders are only required to have an Owner/Builder B.E.S.T. card. Find more information about owner/builder requirements.

Historic Preservation Certification tests (Aspen only) are a sub-type of B.E.S.T. test. Anyone wanting to take the HPC test must hold a general contractor license in the City of Aspen. Find more information about Historic Preservation Certification.

PITKIN COUNTY CONTRACTOR INFORMATION

Pitkin County's Sages will be updated with your new or renewed contractor's license by 4:30pm the next business day.

All OWTS Licenses are issued through Pitkin County Environmental Health
